a friend of mine who is good at music

- OK, that would be my friend Leo.
- You know, I happened to really have this friend who's definitely one of a kind.
 - we were classmates in high school
 - after we met each other for the first time, I found out we had many things in common, and shared same interests
 - after that we just became best friends for each other until now
- Seriously he's of great importance to me, without him, I wouldn't have been where I am today. You know
 - I wouldn't have grown so much in ...
 - I wouldn't made this much progress
 - I wouldn't see things this way now

He's good at the same type of music that I like

How did that happen? ✓

Speaking of [关键词], I actually have a story to share.

好词

— and at that time, maybe a summer holiday, I wasn't doing so well. ★

[厌倦状态]

- I was really annoyed staying with my parents every day.
- They kept complaining about my study, my attitude, my phone use, my expenses, and even their own marriage or job... basically everything. (gripe every day, about...)

[被困惑]

- Every morning, it felt like waking up to the same thing — study, eat, listen to complaints, repeat.
- I was completely stuck in a rut, you know, like nothing was changing.
- I couldn't breathe in that kind of atmosphere.
- Sometimes I just sat in my room, thinking, "Is this what life's gonna be like forever?"
- Oh, I'm not satisfied with the status quo ante.

[崩溃点 + do sth]

- I remember one night I hit my limit — I was so upset that I couldn't hold it in anymore.
- So I texted Leo, and he said, "Come out, let's take a walk."
- We went to this small park near my house.

[倾述, 对方倾听, 行动, (题目有关的)]

扣题 构造题目

- He didn't talk much at first; he just listened.
- And then he played me a song he'd written on his phone — it was soft, kinda sad, but comforting at the same time.

[启发: 不要stuck 世界很大, 只不过看得不够; line stay with me]

- And honestly, that moment hit me hard.
- He told me, "Hey, don't get stuck in that small circle. The world's really big, you just haven't seen enough yet."
- I don't know why, but that line stayed with me.

[点题]

What makes sb + adj. B that

扣题

Maybe what makes him even more special for me is that + 题目

--- seriously, you can't find a better friend than him.

[内化成长, open up, 过于关注what's wrong 而不是what's right]

- It was like something opened up inside me — I started to see that maybe I'd been focusing too much on what's wrong, not what's right.

[做出改变, 多出门, 看世界, 关注small beautiful事物, 行动上的改变]

- Maybe I just needed to get out more, to look at the world, to notice the small, beautiful things around me.
- Since then, I've changed a bit — I started taking walks alone, doing photography, listening to more music instead of overthinking.
- Life still isn't perfect, but I feel lighter, freer, you know?

[回首, 提醒我 美好的东西, 在这个复杂的世界, 像leo这样的人十分的珍贵]

- Looking back, I guess that night reminded me of something really important/ beautiful:
- that in this complicated world, people like Leo — the ones who listen and remind you to look at the good things — they're truly precious, our own kind of pleasure

[回扣下]

In such a society where it's dog eat

- And yeah, I still think about that night sometimes. It really means a lot to me.

简化版

- OK, that would be my friend Leo.
- You know, I happened to really have this friend who's definitely one of a kind.
- At that time, I was really annoyed staying with my parents — they complained every day about my study, my expenses, and even their own problems.
- I felt like being stuck in a rut — all I did was study, eat, and listen to their complaints.
- I got so upset that one day, I finally told Leo everything.
- And what makes him special is that he's really good at music — seriously, you can't find a better friend than him.
- He encouraged me to focus on the good things, and reminded me that the world is really big.
- He said, "Don't get stuck in that small family, man. Life's way bigger than that."
- And you know what, that hit me.
- It reminded me of something beautiful — that even in this dog-eat-dog world, people like him are the ones who really matter.
- So yeah, that's why he's so important to me.
